RE: Essential Business Designation:

Mitchell Container Services, Inc. is a reconitioner/manufacturer and distributor of industrial packagings that are used by a wide range of industries that have been named by the Department of Homeland Security's Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) part of the nation's "Critical Infrastructure Workforce." Industrial packagings include steel and plastic drums, intermediate bulk containers are similar packagings used for the transportation of commodities. In its guidance, CISA identifies a list of industries and workers that are essential to continuity of operations, including but not limited to manufacturers that provide industrial packagings to key industry sectors, including energy, petroleum, food and agriculture, water and wastewater, transportation and logistics, hazardous materials, chemical and waste management. A significant number of our customers are companies that fit within the CISA critical infrastructure list.

Sincerely,

Scott Mitchell
